

RESOLVE

Position: Senior Program/Practice Leader

Applications Accepted until Position is filled

Location: Washington D.C. and regionally in the US, Canada, and Europe

RESOLVE, a non-profit organization in Washington, DC is seeking a Senior Program Leader with significant collaborative leadership experience.

Organization Overview: RESOLVE is an independent organization focused on helping diverse groups build strong, enduring solutions to environmental, social, and health challenges. We help community, business, government and NGO leaders get results and create lasting relationships through collaboration. RESOLVE is based in Washington DC and we work on local, regional, national, and international projects. Our issue focus includes healthy people and communities, clean air and water, resilient ecosystems, smart energy, sustainable development, and natural resource conflicts.

Responsibilities: We are seeking individuals to join and complement our team of mediators and issue and practice leaders. We are open to applicants with collaboration and consensus building training and experience and those with demonstrated collaborative leadership experience in civil society, government, businesses, NGO's, academia, and foundations.

We are looking for senior staff with demonstrated and significant experience:

- analyzing situations for collaborative potential;
- designing and convening complex dialogue or problem solving processes; building and maintaining trusting and productive relationships among diverse people;
- supporting and organizing negotiations to create sustainable agreements;
- innovating to develop new tools to that fit unique and evolving circumstances;
- working at the highest levels with partners in government, foundations, corporations, and civil society; and
- policy, issue, and sector experience and relationships

Qualifications: Applicants must be able to demonstrate 10-20 years of experience with collaboration and consensus building on complex public policy issues. Applicants must have an established reputation with issues or policy areas of interest to RESOLVE. They must also be adept at building a portfolio of projects and partnerships that match RESOLVE's issues foci. Applicants must have the highest ethical and practice standards.

Currently, RESOLVE is seeking senior issue and practice leaders with experience in:

- energy, including conservation, transmission, security, and renewables, as well as conventional energy sources;
- climate change, including mitigation and adaptation;
- corporate sustainable development, product stewardship, and certification.

Senior staff report to the President and Vice President of RESOLVE and work closely with other senior staff to develop projects, advance the organization, and improve the collaboration and consensus-building field.

Salary is commensurate with experience. RESOLVE offers excellent benefits including medical and dental insurance, long term disability, retirement and education contributions, generous family, vacation, and sick leave.

To Apply: Candidates interested in applying please submit a cover letter with relevant experience, resume, and salary history to: jbirkhoff@resolv.org

RESOLVE values enhancing the diversity of its staff and is an equal opportunity employer.